

COOKBOOK MARKET –HIGHLAND PARK—
FULL + PART-TIME CULINARY, WINE + BEER SALES POSITIONS AVAILABLE!

We are looking for someone who is:

- serious about cooking and cooks every day
- knowledgeable about old world wines and domestic + imported craft beers
- knowledgeable about Southern California produce and eager to learn more
- available nights, weekends and holidays
- friendly, responsible, respectful, reliable, self motivated, hard working
- able to multi-task while keeping a high standard of customer service
- excited about the local/sustainable food movement
- able to lift 50lbs

Responsibilities will include, but are not limited to:

- food, beer + wine sales
- caring for all of our products, merchandising the sales floor, and maintaining our back inventory
- tending cash register
- maintaining, organizing & stocking store shelves and cases
- closing, stocking, and cleaning the store

We specialize in super tasty, responsibly raised meats, cheeses & produce. We're committed to sourcing seasonally, locally and organically, to creating lasting partnerships with our farmers and producers, and to serving outstanding food that highlights these connections and high quality ingredients.

We will be adding natural wines and beers to our inventory at our store in Highland Park this spring.

This is a super fast-paced work environment, and we're here to make the shop a place our customers want to come back to day after day.

We are hiring immediately - if you love hard work, love taking care of people, and love cooking, we would love to hear from you!

Must have prior wine and beer sales experience.

$16-$18/HR.

Staff also receive a 35% discount at both of our stores.

Employer-matched health + dental insurance after 60 days for full-time employees.

Please let us know what your 3 favorite ingredients are, and please let us know what one of your favorite cookbooks is. Please also let us know if you are looking for full-time or part-time work.